Week of November 2

2nd graders will be eating picnic style this week and next week, Nov. 2nd–12th. Feel free to send in a towel for your child to sit on while eating.

Thank you for the donations to make our Halloween centers come to life. The students had so much fun. Also, a big thank you to our parent center volunteers, Mrs. Manders and Mrs. Gilmore.

Special Homework Project: Oh No! Turkey needs to plan his escape. He/she has decided to disguise himself/herself. The students' assignment is to help Turkey with a disguise. The students are bringing home The Runaway Turkey Project this week. You will see a sample of a paragraph outline and final paragraph for guidance. This assignment is due Monday, Nov. 15th. Have fun and show your creativity!

The Walk 'n Roll-a-thon is this Friday, Nov. 5th. The second graders will be participating in the Walk 'n Roll a-thon at 8:50–9:15. I believe the shirts will be sent home this week. I have included the link should you like to donate to our school. All donations are greatly appreciated and fund many of TL's extracurricular activities. Donations can be made using this link: shorturl.at/jwT28

Student of the Week: Last week we began Student of the Week where a student will be honored each week. When it is your child's selected week he/she will bring home a stating what to do (see excerpt below). Unfortunately, the students will not be bringing home Q-Bear for the weekend this year (a normal tradition), but will bring home a picture replica of Q-Bear that they can keep.

Friday: You will receive a certificate. You will bring the Q-bear journal home for the weekend and write about your adventures with Q-Bear in his journal.

Monday: Return the journal. You will share your journal entry with the class. You will also share your 'All About Me' poster that was completed at the beginning of the school year.

Tuesday and Thursday: Bring in one thing, each day, that is special to share with the class.

Friday: Return the Guessing jar to school filled with no more than 50 objects. We will use the Guessing jar to estimate how many items you have put in it. The items can be shared with the class after estimating in the classroom (if edible, must be individually wrapped).

Paper Towel Tubes: 2nd grade is in need of paper towel tubes to use in Makerspace. Please send them in if you have any. Thanks so much!
